

Melanie D.G. Kaplan reads to her beagle during a backyard campout in May. (James Haworth)

Sweet dreams

The May 24 Arts & Style and Travel sections were a pleasure to read. The color illustrations and photographs made for such a feast, and the articles were so interesting — photos of “dreamlike visions,” the painting of Artemisia Gentileschi, camping in the backyard [“Making the yard your campground”]. Like others, “Memory’s mystery is better left unsolved” reminded me of a beloved similar scene at a local gallery. It was all wonderful!

Diann Sherwin, Dagsboro, Del.